Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, took another big step forward Saturday evening, Armistice Day Eve, when in the presence of an audience numbering over 200, Legionnaires, members of the Legion Auxiliary, visiting guests and dignitaries of the Legion from neighboring states, dedicated the new home at 619 Radcliffe street. The dedication was "to those who fought and died in the service of their country."

The dedicatory address was by Lester Block, Past State Commander of Department of New Jersey, and came as the concluding feature of a program of speechmaking which followed a dinner.

Block in his address said: "In the name of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, Department of Pennsylvania, The American Legion, I now dedicate this structure, embodiment of the ideal of Justice, Freedom and Democracy for which The American Legion exists."

"As in time of war we fight for our country, so in time of peace may we serve the Republic fearlessly and well. May we bear in mind the comrades who have gone before, that their memory may be a constant blessing among us."

"It is our hope and desire that this edifice may be used ever in the service of our disabled comrades, of the widowed and the orphaned, and to the benefit of our community, state and nation."

"I dedicate this structure to the purposes of your Post, and with it I dedicate this Post to the faithful service of our nation, of its people, and to the memory of our heroic dead."

Keys to the building were handed.

grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins.

The widespread search started at 5:30 when his father returned home and asked the tot's mother where "little man" was. First the services of the tot's uncles were enlisted; Bristol township police, Bristol police, and state police from Langhorne barracks were asked to participate; then a five-state alarm went out over wires; and when the child was not soon found firemen from many companies were dispatched to the scene. Fields, woods and vacant houses were scoured; and plans made to search a small lake on a nearby farm.

Hearts which were heavy throughout the late hours of the day leaped with joy when the word was finally shouted from road-way to house, and over telephone lines that "little Stan" had been found.

"Stan," who will be three years old on December 31st, had left his home on Emilie road, just west of Green Lane, at about 2:30 yesterday afternoon and gone to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reedman, Sr., Emilie road, about five houses away. ### Rescue Workers Toil to Free Wreck Victims

EVANSTON, Wyo. — Rescue workers toiled in bitter Wyoming cold today to learn the fate of several persons still in the wreckage of a two-train smashup which killed at least 29 near Evanston, Wyo.

A Union Pacific railroad official said that 20 persons are known dead, and the count may go higher as rescue workers probe the wreckage of the three end cars of the City of Los Angeles by daylight.

U. P. passenger agent Arthur G. Bloom of Salt Lake City said there were 14 bodies in Evanston mortuaries and six bodies still unrecovered from the mass of twisted wreckage.

Workers used floodlights during the night to clear one of the main line tracks and traffic was moving over the one line. With daylight the workers started dragging pieces of the trains with bulldozers in an effort to locate any bodies which may still be in the debris.

Workers were able to determine that one person was caught in a vestibule between two cars and literally ground to death.

The speedometer of the City of San Francisco was found to have stuck at 70 miles an hour. However, officials said this did not necessarily indicate the speed of the train at the time of the crash.

GUNS AND THE LANGUAGE

Common phrases and expressions in frequent use which are traced to the early use of guns are listed by W. G. Burckel, process engineer of the Remington Arms Company. Mr. Burckel writes that when the gun, powder horn and shot pouch were almost as necessary as pants — and often more necessary and also a means of providing them—a lore came into being that has affected the thought and speech of today.

"Take the expression, 'Lock, stock and barrel,'" Mr. Burckel writes. "When a person accepts a proposition 'lock, stock and barrel,' it means he accepts the matter entirely, without reservation.

"The expression stems from colonial days when a gun, once acquired, was seldom scrapped or disposed of for a new one," Mr. Burckel explains. "When a part wore out or was broken, a new part was made or procured. Completeness was indicated by 'lock, stock and barrel,' or the whole gun."

"Just a flash in the pan" is another common expression traced by Mr. Burckel. It signifies a person is one who makes a big fuss, is noisily enthusiastic but whose actions are not productive and enduring. The individual does something once, and only once.

It stems from the use of the flint lock rifle, where flint struck steel, sparks from them flew to the igniting powder, in flaring, lighted the powder behind the bullet or shot in the barrel through the small priming hole.

When the flint and steel made the sparks, and ignited the powder in the pan, but the powder in the pan, although it flared brightly, failed to light the powder in the barrel, then the results were obvious. The gun did not go off, although it gave most of the indications of having done so.

It looked good, but accomplished nothing.

Mr. Burckel lists the following other common expressions which are derived from shooting:

"The plans 'misfired,'" "set your sights high," "score a bulls-eye," "draw a 'head' on something," "keep your powder dry," "don't fall short of the mark," "straight as a ramrod," "he 'over-shot the mark,'" "he is 'loaded for bear,'" "sharp shooter," "a shot in the dark," "he 'goes off half-cocked,'" "he is all 'primed' for the occasion," "hair-trigger nerves," "hold your fire," "a straight shooter," "hit 'dead center,'" and "he has 'lined his sights on the target.'"

Guns continue to occupy a prominent place in American nomenclature, but they are not the simple weapons that are reflected so widely in expressions in every day use.

According to one visiting American, English nobility is now on exhibition at an admission price. Where only ears are being shown, does that make it a B picture?

Federal judge says it won't be long before we'll have to ask Washington when to get up in the morning. It will have to be early, if taxes are to be met.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol July 9, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

TULLYTOWN — The directors of the Delaware School have decided not to open that institution for students next fall. The attendance for several years has averaged less than a dozen so there's little need of the school. The students in the district will be given instruction in the neighboring places of learning.

FALLSINGTON — Residents of this section are furnishing up their firearms in anticipation of a visit from robbers. Recently they have visited the homes of William Watson, Mrs. James Newbold, and while trying to effect an entrance to the residence of William McClossey they were frightened away by an alarm given by Mrs. McClossey, who discovered them trying to get in her bedroom window. It is reported that they also visited the homes of William Walderston, and Charles Wolpert. Among the things taken were a quantity of clothing and eatables.

The Bristol Board of Health is planning a war of destruction against the mosquitoes. The board is in communication with scientific authorities and the watch word is the mosquito must go.

Rev. John Kennedy Moorhouse, of St. David's, who was appointed by the bishop minister-in-charge of St. Paul's Mission, assumed his position last Sunday and is now in regular charge of the services.

At the shooting match at the Bristol Shooting Association's grounds on the Fourth the honors were carried off by Ray Nevegold and Walter F. Leedom, each killing nine out of ten live birds. A big clay pigeon match will be held next Saturday afternoon.

The two new cars which arrived recently for the Bristol-Morrisville division of the Philadelphia, Bristol and Trenton Street Railway Company, were put into service on the Fourth of July and were objects of general interest. The cars are hand-some ones and are the latest improved types of street railway carriages, being Brill's semi-convertible cars, manufactured by the J. G. Brill Company, of Philadelphia. They have comfortable seating capacity for forty persons. A half hour service has been established between Bristol and Morrisville. This division of the road has been splendidly patronized, far exceeding the expectations of the promoters, and it is hoped the two old cars which make such a terrific racket will soon be replaced by more of the new ones.

Mrs. Ruth Stephenson of West Washington street, will sail today on the "Arabie" for Bradford, England, where she will spend several months with relatives. She is accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Eliza Pogson, who is returning home after an extended visit among relatives in the United States.

The annual election of officers of the Allemania Verein, of Bristol, was held on Tuesday, when Gustav A. Rathke was elected president for his 12th consecutive term. The other officers chosen were: Jacob L. Schell, vice-president; Ernest Seltzer, secretary; Charles Mullen, financial secretary; Albert Loehner, Henry Beck, Edmund Grunert, trustees. The society is in a prosperous condition and has 149 members, thirteen new ones being elected on Tuesday.

Recently John K. Wildman, president of the Bristol school board, made a visit to the big plant of the Corona Kid Co., where coat skins imported from Russia, are made into a patent leather that has won fame throughout the United States.

The display of fireworks which was given by members of Good Will Hose Co. No. 3, in front of their house on Swain street, was the most elaborate which has been seen in Bristol for many years, and was about the only effort made on a large scale. The collection consisted of roman candles, sky rockets, flower pots, pin wheels, balloons, red and green fire and two set pieces. The display was witnessed by fully a thousand people.

The 3-story brick building on Mill street owned by H. S. Rue, and formerly used for a hardware store, has been rented by the Philadelphia, Bristol and Trenton Street Railway Company for office purposes.

Continue Case of Appeal From Justice Ruling

to build a garage in a R-2 Zone at its face value without investigating it.

Second, the Zoning Board of Adjustment revoked a building permit without having held a public hearing after they had first passed on it.

Third, the Zoning Board never officially informed the defendant, Tomack, of their decision nor could they produce minutes of their various meetings in court yesterday.

Julian and Florence Tomack, the defendants, whose property is located at Bristol road and Magee street, and in an R-2 Zone, applied for a permit to build a garage in February, 1949.

Eloy E. Simons, Feasterville, who was a zoning officer for two years, testified he didn't examine the lot on which the garage was to be built before he issued the building permit February 24, 1949.

The building permit was revoked April 13, 1949, Simons testified. The defendant, Simons testified, was notified he was violating the Zoning Code, by the Board of Adjustment which had not given him a public hearing. The Board of Adjustment requested that he return the building permit for which he paid $11.

"I felt the Zoning Board's decision was personal jealousy and I never got my $11 back, so I never returned my building permit," said Tomack.

Attorney Achey, counsel for the defendant, argued that the limitation of use, as set up by the Zoning Code, does not include the use this defendant wanted to make of his property. Tomack was fined $53.50 June 1 by Justice of the Peace A. R. Clayton.

Father Gives Miss Mount in Marriage

The two attendants wore pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride.

To his attendants, Mr. McClain gave wallets, the best man being Mr. Chas. Eugene Mount, and usher, Mr. Bruce Schleiker.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, with low, pointed neckline, long sleeves; and long train. Slippers were satin. Her small headpiece of lace was edged with seed pearls. The bridal cascade of white roses had an orchid of white in the center.

Members of the bridal party and immediate families assembled at Penn Manor Club, Falls township, at 6:30 for dinner. Leaving for a honeymoon in New York, N. Y., Mrs. McClain was attired in a tan wool, knitted dress, dark green accessories, and wore a white orchid.

The two will reside at 337 Garfield street.

The bride's mother wore to the wedding a navy blue dress with pink trim, blue accessories, and a corsage of pink rose-buds. Mrs. Joseph E. McClain, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a dress of aqua, black accessories, and wore yellow roses in a corsage. The newlyweds are Bristol high school graduates.

Rent Control Law Now in Force Here

Francis J. Byers, who is the president of the Bucks County Boroughs Association. He introduced Mr. Tarchi, and moved the privilege of the floor for him to address the gathering.

Mr. Tarchi said:
"As you undoubtedly know, the combined community known as the Bristol-Morrisville Defense Area has been recently designated by Mr. Wilson, the Defense Mobilizer, and Mr. Lovett, Secretary of Defense, as a Critical Housing Area. As a result of this designation it is necessary, in fact mandatory, that the Office of Rent Stabilization administer what might be called full Rent Control in the area."

"This area covers the Townships of:
"Bensalem, Bristol, Falls, Middletown, Lower Makefield, Upper Makefield, Newtown, Wrightstown, and Northampton; and the Boroughs of Bristol, Hulmeville, Langhorne, Langhorne Manor, Morrisville, Newtown, Pennell, Tullytown and Yardley."

"The Bristol-Morrisville area, as you know, has been continuously under rent control prior to its certification as a Critical Housing Area, with, however, the important provision that certain types of housing units were decontrolled."

"The decontrolled housing included new construction or conversions made after February 1, 1947, hotels, tourist cabins, trailers and trailer spaces, and certain non-housekeeping furnished rooms."

"Under the new law, and as a result of the certification by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lovett, all such units are now automatically subject to rent control, and they must be registered with the Rent Office within 30 days."

"A big part of our job here is to preserve a reasonable rent level in suddenly booming defense areas so that an adequate labor supply will be attracted to keep our mobilization industry rolling in high gear. Skilled defense workers, particularly in the steel industry, are free agents to a great degree, and they will not be willing to come here to work unless they can be reasonably assured of shelter for themselves."

and their families at a reasonable rent. An adequate supply of skilled labor is absolutely necessary to meet our mobilization goal.

"We must forget our old concept of 'frozen rents.' The new law gives us the authority to determine an adequate rent level, to reduce exorbitant rents, yet at the same time bring up all rents that have lagged behind."

"Our assignment, given by Congress, is to see that available housing is shared fairly without overcrowding, with no excessive, sky-high rents on the one side, and yet no attempts by the tenants to take advantage of property owners."

"Although a maximum legal rent will be determined for every housing accommodation, individual adjustments upward or downward from that rent may be made when circumstances justify a change. The law is liberal in granting increases to landlords to avoid hardships. The law also has strong guarantees to tenants that they will not be evicted from their homes without good and just causes, certainly not because they refuse to pay a rent above the legal ceiling."

"For convenience and also to achieve the maximum local administration desired by local people, we have established Rent Offices in both Bristol and Morrisville. The office in Bristol is at 200 Radcliffe street in the Bristol Trust Company Building. The office in Morrisville is in Borough Hall, Chambers and Washington streets."

"The date when Rent Stabilization became effective in this area was Monday, November 5. That means that effective last Monday, or the next rent-paying date thereafter, rents on all types of housing accommodations may not exceed the rent charged on March 1, 1951."

"We must not call it a 'freeze date,' because a landlord is entitled by law to come in to the rent office and obtain an increase when it is clearly justified by increased costs such as higher taxes or utilities, or increased services which he has provided since the maximum rent date. Similarly, a tenant may petition for a decrease if he feels that the rent charged is excessive in comparison to similar accommodations."

"Landlords or their agents who have not previously registered such units with the Office of Rent Stabilization are now obligated to register them at the Rent Office in Bristol or Morrisville within 30 days; that is, by December 4. If they are unable to visit the Rent Office, registration forms will be mailed to them on request."

"Although landlords are allowed 30 days in which to register, the law is in effect, and has been in effect since last Monday, November 5, and any subsequent overcharge settlements may be made retroactive to that date. Landlords who fail to register on time or fail to abide by the regulations may be required to refund overcharges to their tenants."

"Until registration is completed December 4, there is little need for a tenant to contact the Rent Office for any other reason than the threat of eviction. In cases involving overcharges, or failure of the landlord to perform required services, the Rent Office can do little until all registrations are in."

"However, let's return a moment to the matter of evictions—and this is important!"

"The moment Rent Control became effective in this area, meaning last Monday, all tenants received strong legal protection against capricious or arbitrary evictions. Landlords are, of course, given the right to evict tenants for certain clearly defined causes, and to recover use of their property for specific reasons. Tenants who may now be threatened with eviction—if a court ruling has not yet been handed down prior to November 5—should get in touch with the Rent Office without delay."

Find 4-Year-Old and Dog Safe After 4-Hour Search

"Stan," with instructions to go directly home. "Stan" started out the rear lane, with the dog leading the way. This has often happened before, the family states, the dog leading the boy through the woods and fields, then back home after a romp.

Earlier in the day "Stan," with thoughts of hunting on his mind, had informed his mother "I think I'll go out and get some wabbits." Possibly this was in his mind when he and the dog by-passed a house which his father is erecting, and where his father was working at the time. The dog and boy continued back of some completed houses and to a sample house three doors from his own home. The sample house is unlocked during the day for convenience of those interested in inspecting it. The two apparently entered the enclosed staircase from the living room, and went to the expansion attic. The child is believed to have been unable to open the door at the foot of the stairs when he tried to get out. It was there that the boy and dog were found at 9:30.

In the meantime, "Stan's" father, passing the sample house, en route home from his tasks, had halted long enough to lock the front door for the day, unimpressed of the fact that his boy was inside. It was during the long, frantic search (four hours later) that Stanley Reedman, Sr., returned to the sample house, unlocked it, and then heard his boy calling him. From appearances, "Stan" had been sleeping part of the time.

Upon his arrival home from work at 5:30, Stanley Reedman, Sr., had inquired of his wife where the "little man" was. When the child could not be located immediately, his father, together with Earl Transue, Safford Pye, Thomas Reedman, and Bernard Reedman, Jr., started to hunt him. The tot had a sweater and light-weight jacket on, but the temperature was lowering. Soon flashlights were seen flickering through the woods and fields, the searchers all the time calling to "Teddy," the Jackshund, in the hope that the dog would hear and lead them to the boy.

When no results were forthcoming, more calls were made, and services of police, firemen, rescue squads, American Legion members and neighbors for distances around were enlisted. The frantic family asked if bloodhounds could be secured, and suggestion was made that a search be made of a lake on the nearby Booz farm. The alarm went out over teletype wires. The call for assistance was first received through Bristol police headquarters by Officer Chichiletti at 5:45.

"I was almost 'all in,'" says the boy's grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Reedman, Sr., who had spent much time in directing some of the searchers to various points, and in making calls for aid. "They made me stay inside then, and I said to little 'Bernie,' 'Let's go and pray for him.' We went to a little altar that we have, and prayed. Some time later 'Bernie' came to the house again and called 'Granny,' they found 'Little Stan.' My first question was 'Is he alive?', and no one knows what a relief it was to hear him say 'Yes.' Nine-year-old 'Bernie' found it difficult to get up for school this morning."

A physician arrived at the Reedman home to examine the tot, and pronounced him fit and well. "Stan" has a baby sister, Diana, one month old.

Council Decides to "Bear Down" on Trailers in Boro

derstood Mr. Roche to say the supply had reached a precarious condition.

Mr. Roche said that it is a fact the present supply is near to a shortage, but continued that there is much more water available from the Edgely wells — that it was "a question of bringing it down to the borough."

The water committee was granted permission to hire an additional employee, and authorized to accept two bids: one with Edward Cummings, of Bristol, in the amount of $1400 to demolish a smokestack at the Radcliffe street plant of the water works, and the other with Nash Company, of Philadelphia, in the sum of $758 for vacuum priming pumps to stabilize the supply of water in the mains.

The committee also was authorized to ask bids for a new roof on the boiler house at the Radcliffe street plant.

On motion of Mr. Egan, chairman of the police committee, council voted to make Canal street one-way, east-bound, from Washington street to Jefferson avenue, with no parking. Congestion there has been serious, due to work being done to the woolen mill.

Another change suggested by the police committee and approved by council was to make a two-way thoroughfare of the short section of McKinley street from East Circle to Route 13, the rest of McKinley street to continue to be one-way as at present.

The statistical report of the Bristol Police Department for the month of October shows the following: A. W. O. L. from U. S. Army, 1; disorderly conduct, 12; operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 1; indecent assault, 1.

The following disposition was made of the cases: Held for court, 5; fined, 11; committed to county prison, 1; turned over to other authorities, 2.

Lodgers sheltered at the municipal building, 125; street lights reported out, 5; doors found unlocked after hours, 3; alarms answered by radio car, 458; alarms answered by Bristol township radio car, 163; school crossing details, 104; fined for parking violations, 93; money paid for parking violations, $93; dogs destroyed, five; cats destroyed, one; aid to ill person, one; assistance to electric company, one; lost child returned to parents, one; emergency messages delivered, three; escorts, 42; juvenile bicycle riders warned, four; accidents investigated, 18; pedestrians injured in accidents, two; persons injured in collision of motor vehicles, two; property only damaged by motor vehicles, 14; collected from parking meters, $90.93; arrested for reckless driving, three; speeding, two; operating without a license, one; operator not properly registered, one; failure to yield right of way, one; passing "stop" sign, two; passing red light, two; registration cards not signed, one.

Fines collected for motor violations — Reckless driving, $10; speeding, $10; passing red light, $5; passing "stop" sign, $5; registration card not signed, $5; failure to yield right of way, $10; operating without a license, $10; operator not registered, $25.

Paid to borough treasurer, $40; aid to State of Pennsylvania, $95. A report was presented by a special committee consisting of the three fifth ward councilmen, Edward J. Riley, Joseph Perry and Joseph DiLisio, with reference to quarrel among residents of Grant avenue over automobile parking.

The report stated that the disagreement concerned the insistence of certain residents on their right to park their cars in front of their property, even when this resulted in blocking the entrances to private garages. It further said that the garage owners had stopped putting their cars in the garages, and were parking them on the street, adding to the congestion.

The committee recommended that grant avenue be made a one-way street, but reported itself unable to find a solution to the disagreement. The matter was turned over to the police committee for further study. Councilman Perry, reporting for the health and sanitation committee, said that the sewer-improvement project was being delayed temporarily by difficulty of getting priorities for certain needed materials.

porarily by difficulty of getting priorities for certain needed materials.

A letter was read from Rohm & Haas Company, referring to release of fumes and promising to correct the situation.

Several committee chairmen made reports of progress. Among these were Councilman DiLisio, of the streets and highways committee, who said that the street and electric lights programs were well along, and that Pond street was being repaired by the State Highway Department prior to its being turned over to the borough; on behalf of the fire committee by its chairman, John H. Wichser, who said that inspection of the fire fighting equipment showed it to be in good condition; and by George C. Duff, of the finance committee, who called council's attention to the fact that letters and request forms for the new budget have been sent to all committees.

At the opening of council, Burgess I. J. Hetherington, Sr., presented a letter from the Bristol Chamber of Commerce stating that the chamber was giving approval of the zoning ordinance on the understanding that it mainly followed the former measure, which was defeated, and that suggestions made by the chamber had been embodied in the new draft. A public hearing on this zoning ordinance is to be held November 28.

The burgess also told council that he had directed the health and sanitation and the streets and highways committees to go into the question of whether it would be possible to acquire the Bristol portion of the Delaware Division Canal, for the purpose of making it into a road which would furnish a new entrance to Mill street and to the parking area.

Council, he continued, should keep a close watch on the project for deepening the Delaware River channel, a project he said he favored, but feared it might undermine homes along the riverbank unless the banks were rip-rapped by the Federal government. Fill from the river deepening, he added, might be used to open a new road from old Route 13 across the canal into the municipal parking lot.

He also recommended that the police department be increased six men, that council give consideration to raising wages of the borough employees, and that a new drive be made to obtain equalization of taxes so that Bristol's total present assessment of approximately $6,000,000 would be raised to $18,000,000 or $20,000,000.

Council was notified that the Bucks County Boroughs Association will hold its next meeting at the Temperance Hotel in Newtown on the evening of November 27.

At the suggestion of Burgess Hetherington, Council stood for a silent Armistice Day tribute to the American servicemen who have given their lives in all wars.

Invocation was delivered by the Rev. Harold C. Koch, of the Bristol Methodist Church.

Nevling-Brescia Wedding Occurs Armistice Day

On Sunday, at 12 o'clock noon, Miss Theresa R. Brescia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brescia, Bristol, and Kirby E. Nevling, son of Mrs. Martha Nevling, Coalport, were married in St. Ann's R. C. rectory. The Rev. Peter Pinci performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white chiffon velvet styled with high yoke of chantilly lace edged with seed pearls and rhinestones. The skirt was box pleated with a front lace panel extending from the waist to hem in redingote style ending in a long cathedral train, long pointed sleeves, a long nylon illusion veil edged with imported French lace held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones, white satin slippers and she carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums with an orchid in the center.

Miss Philomena Petruccio, of Fallsington, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a rose chiffon velvet gown with mandarin neckline, button down front of waist and a bouffant skirt with a headpiece of matching velvet. She wore short mitts and carried an arm bouquet of lemon-toned chrysanthemums. Bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Villis, of Bristol, wore a gown fashioned similar to that of the maid of honor.

Flower girls were Barbara Brescia, niece of bride, and Frances Brescia, cousin of bride. They wore identical gowns of powder blue chiffon velvet similar in style to that of the maid of honor, but with pick-up side skirt with ruffles of matching shade of Chantilly lace. Bouquets were of pink pompons and poke bonnets tied under the chin were worn.

Best man was Ernest Goodis, Bristol, and usher, Mr. Cyrus Samuels, Pennel.

The bride's mother wore a black lace ballerina length dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue dress, blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

A dinner for 75 was served at three o'clock, and a reception for 500 took place at seven o'clock in Goodwill Fire Co. station.

The bride's traveling costume was a blue knitted suit, black accessories, a blue velvetene fitted coat and an orchid corsage. The couple are motoring through the southern states and will reside at 562 Swain street.

Two Wed Here Spending Honeymoon in Metropolis

A couple, united in matrimony here Saturday afternoon at three, is spending a honeymoon in New York, N. Y. The bridegroom and bride are Mr. Angelo Malave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Malave, New York, N. Y., and the former Miss Carmella A. Petillo, daughter of Mrs. Irwin Hoyer, 419 Dorrance street.

The Rev. Andrew G. Solla performed the nuptial ceremony at three o'clock in Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour. Mr. Hoyer escorting the bride to the altar as Miss Rita Florito, a resident of Lafayette and Cedar streets, played the bridal march on the organ.

Vocalist was Miss Elda Viviani, Trenton, N. J. She sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love Thee."

Selection of the bride for her wedding gown was one of white satin lace, the bodice and long scalloped train being of the satin, and the full skirt of lace. Pearls trimmed the bodice, also the tops of the long sleeves. The yoke was sheer. Slippers were of brocade; and the tiara was composed of rhinestones and pearls. From this fell a lace veil, and her cascade bouquet was composed of white flowers.

There were three bridesmaids, namely: Miss Helen Patillo, sister of the bride, attired in Nile green; and the Misses Lena Genco, Pond street, and Eileen Claridy, Lincoln avenue, wearing shrimp tone. The bodices of the gowns were satin, and the skirts of tulle, apron effect being featured. With these the three carried muffs to match their gowns, white chrysanthemums and lavender orchid appearing on each muff. Slippers were in gold tone. The trio wore crowns of orange blossoms, matching their gowns.

Mr. John Costantine, Venice avenue, was best man for Mr. Malave; and ushers were Messrs. John Sheeran and Frank Hanaway, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The dinner was served at the Hoyer residence, with evening reception for 300 being held in Mutual Aid Hall.

Mrs. Hoyer, the bride's mother, wore a gray jersey dress, black Persian top, black accessories, white gloves and white orchid; while Mrs. Malave was attired in a gray suit and wore a lavender orchid.

As a traveling costume, the bride selected a royal blue dress with black velvet trim, black velvet accessories, white gloves and gray fur coat.

The bride and bridegroom will make their home at 419 Dorrance street. Mr. Malave, who saw service in the European theatre of operations during World War II, was a member of the army for six years. He gave wallets to his attendants. Mrs. Malave presented her attendants with pearl earrings and bracelets.

The new corner-elect ward his fellow Republican club members to be optimistic about the future of Bucks County remaining in the Republican rank. "The fact that Lower Bucks is becoming highly industrialized in no way means future defeat for the Republican party," Ferris added, "Don't preach defeatism for the lower-end section of our county. Our leaders are taking care of that and will continue to do so."

State Representative, Wilson L. Yeakey, Perkiss, who has been in the State Legislature 24 years congratulated the Republicans elected to office last Tuesday, and added "I am certain that we'll carry on as did our predecessors by carrying out your duties in a capable and efficient manner."

Candidates present included: Register of Wills elect, C. Herbert Treasman, Doylestown; County Treasurer elect, Thomas R. Lewis, Perkiss; Clerk of Orphans Court elect, Mary S. Yardley, Lower Makefield Township; Clerk of Quarter Sessions elect, H. Lamont Marsh, Bristol; Coroner elect, Ferris; Congressman elect, Carl C. King, Falls township; County Commissioner, Joseph W. Halliwell, Warminster township. Unable to attend were Judge Edward G. Blester and County Surveyor, Amos J. Kirk.

Club president, Senator Watson, presented various candidates and told the club members that there was evidence on every side to show that the Loyal Republican Club of Bucks County is the spark of the party's activities in Bucks County. He said, the return of a majority that reaches close to 13,000 is proof of that statement.

President Watson pointed out that the Loyal Republican Club started with a group of nine members and has grown to a total of 1,650 members at the present time, every member a salesman for the Republican party.

County Chairman Clayton also thanked the club members for the big majority given the candidates and assured them the party is in good shape for the November election next year.

Announcement was made by President Watson of the annual Christmas "Kiddies" party to be held at the club house, Buckingham, Saturday afternoon, December 8th, when 500 children will be entertained. The Christmas party for adults will be held Monday evening, Dec. 10th, at the club house.

Entertainment for last evening's program was furnished by young boys and girls from the Fleming Dance Art Studio of Upper Black Eddy, assisted by "Ronnie" Clifford of Clifford's School of Dancing. At the piano were Mrs. Mary Gehris and Mrs. Margaret Fleming. Costumes were designed by "Ronnie" Clifford and Mrs. Margaret Fleming.

BENSALEM HIGH GRID TEAM UPSETS BRISTOL HIGH TO GET BACK INTO SCRAP FOR CROWN

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 13.—Spotting Bristol High six points, the Bensalem Township Owls came back strong to upset the Warriors, 19-12, in a thrilling, hard-fought game, Saturday, on the winner's gridiron.

The triumph put the Owls back into the running for the Lower Bucks County championship. Bensalem is now deadlocked with Morrisville for second place with seven points each. Bristol still leads the pack with eight points. Morrisville, still undefeated although tied, must play Neshaminy and Bristol. Bensalem has to play Neshaminy so it appears that the league crown will not be definitely decided until Thanksgiving Day.

It was the first league defeat for Bristol and the first time that a VanHorn-coached team has beaten the Warriors. Bensalem has either won or tied for the championship in the three years that Harlem VanHorn has been at the helm at the Cornwells Heights' institution.

Bristol scored on the first running play of the game but undaunted the Bensalem team staged a fine-spirited spurt that enabled them to take a lead before the first quarter was over. It then forged ahead and although Bristol pared the lead to one point at half-time, the Owls had plenty of stamina left to score a touchdown in the final quarter and also stage off two Bristol rallies with goal-line stands.

Bristol outnumbered Bensalem in first downs, 9-8, even though Bensalem made six first downs before the Warriors chalked up one. However, the brilliant goal-line show of the home team meant the difference between victory and a possible deadlock. Bristol had the ball on the four-yard line with four downs to go. Jack Gleason moved the ball to within six inches of the goal on the "X" thrust but on the next three plays, the forward line of the Owls stood up like a stone wall and failed to budge an inch as it tossed back every attempt to crack an opening. The Owls took over with the ball still on the 6-inch line but before it could line up for a play, the game was over.

Bristol was hard hit with penalties, they seeming to come at critical points of the game. On one occasion, a Bristol back ran the ball from his 43 to Bensalem's 22 but the play was recalled and a 15-yard penalty imposed on Bristol. Bristol was also set back 15 yards on a penalty on the next play, putting it back to the 11-yard line and forcing the D'Angelo-coached team to kick. The boot was run back by Whitfield to the 29 to set up the second Bensalem score. Once Bristol recovered a fumble on its three-yard line but a penalty against Bristol was declined to enable the Owls to retain possession of the ball and eventually score.

The penalties called on the Warriors totaled a total of 75 yards. Bensalem had a five-yard penalty called on it on the try for the extra point but it converted on the next play.

Bristol also passed up a scoring opportunity in the third quarter when it was within one yard of the Bensalem goal line with three downs to go but on the next play Gleason fumbled on the 2. Scott recovering for Bensalem.

Russ Struble, Bob Whitfield and Jim Bristow scored for the Owls with Bill Gillies and Andy Accardi registering the Bristol scores. The only converted point was an aerial Struble to Whitfield.

Bristol gained 171 yards through its ground attack and lost 4. Bensalem made 92 yards via the ground and lost 11. Bensalem's passes (not including touchdown throws) netted 46 yards while the Bristol aerial attack gained 29 yards. The longest run of the game was a 12-yard spurt by Accardi, of Bristol, in the final quarter.

The Warriors scored early in the tilt. Dan Davis kicked off to Whitfield who ran from the 15 to the 25. On the first play, Whitfield fumbled on the 22. Gillies picked up the ball and ran for a TD. Les Gibbs' place-kick try for the extra point was blocked.

Davis then kicked off to Whitfield on the 12, the ball being run back to the 34. On the first play again, Whitfield fumbled and Gleason recovered on the 35. Accardi and Holeton netted seven yards but Gleason was stopped and on fourth down, a pass was unsuccessful, as Bensalem took over on its 28. Whitfield knocked off seven and then sliced tackle for a first on the 41. However, Bristol held, so Whitfield booted to Bristol's 32. After Holeton made a gain of six yards, Accardi fumbled, Carl Arnold pouncing on the ball to give Bensalem possession on the Bristol 43. Whitfield gained 2 and was stopped on the next play but Bristol was penalized 15 yards. Another Whitfield thrust gained six yards. He then skirted end for a first on the 13. Two plays did not net much so on third down, Whitfield tossed a pass to Struble for a touchdown. The procedure was reversed as the Owls converted the extra point to take a 7-6 lead.

Struble kicked out of bounds, the ball being put in play on the Bristol 40. Just before the quarter ended, Dick Gloyd recovered a Bristol fumble on the 36.

Whitfield lost 2 but Mikelaits made it up and two more. A pass, Whitfield to Al Dominiani gave Bensalem a first on the 22. Whitfield fumbled on the next play, Ed Charlton recovering for Bristol. However, Bristol failed to capitalize. Accardi kicking to Whitfield who ran back to the Bristol 44. Parker and Mikelaits gained 7 and Whitfield pounded center for a first on the 34. After three passes failed to connect, Al Parker was thrown for a 9-yard loss as he failed to get off the fourth try.

Bristol took over on its 42. After a yard gain through the line, Petrizzi broke loose to run to the Bensalem 22 but Bristol was penalized to its 25. Another penalty put it on the 11. Accardi punted to Whitfield on the 40. He ran to the 29. A short pass, Whitfield to Parker, gained a yard but a long one, Whitfield to Dominiani, was completed for a first on Bristol's 5. Whitfield went to the 3. Whitfield fumbled, Gleason recovering for Bristol, but a penalty enabled Bensalem to keep the ball. Whitfield was stopped on the next try. His pass to Struble was grounded but on fourth down he went over the right side for a score. Whitfield could not get off a pass on the extra point try, the score being 13-6.

Bristol still had power. The kick off was run back to the 10. Gleason gained 15 for a first on the Owls 45. Accardi made 15 more. A pass Gibbs to Accardi, was good for a first on the 17. Gleason netted four and Accardi followed with a smashing line blow which took him to the 3. Accardi then scored, making the count 13-12, as Gibbs' attempted pass was knocked down. The half ended shortly after.

In the third quarter, Accardi punted Bensalem in a hole by booting to the 1-yard line. In kicking out of danger, Whitfield's punt went to the 35. On a reverse, Petrizzi made a first on the 24. After two line plays, Accardi tossed a pass to Petrizzi for a first on the 6. Gleason went to the 1-yard line. Gleason fumbled, Dick Scott recovering for Bensalem. Whitfield punted out of bounds on the 21. Bristol's offense was stalled as Bensalem held with Dave Lewis barely missing a pass in the end zone on fourth down. Whitfield again kicked out, the ball going to the 30 as the quarter ended.

Holeton lost a yard but Accardi picked up six. Whitfield intercepted Accardi's pass at midfield and ran to the Bristol 44. Whitfield gained 5 at guard. Arnold made a first on the 29. Bristol was penalized 15 yards to its 14. Two line plays was good for 5 yards. On third down, Whitfield threw a pass to Jim Bristow for the deciding touchdown. A pass in the try for extra point was unsuccessful, Bensalem leading 19-12.

Gleason ran back the kickoff from his 20 to the 33. Holeton's end sweep was good for 8 yards. Accardi broke loose on an off-tackle play and got to the Owls' 29. Gleason and Holeton were good for 6 yards. Gleason made a first on the 18. Three plays later, Gleason made a first on the 4. But Bensalem held for four downs as the game ended.
